

Dear Manu,

Congrats on a great career and your announced retirement. We've thoroughly enjoyed watching you over the last 16 seasons.

We're not sure what you have planned next, but we've been waiting nine years to make the following second career suggestion:

Join our Terminix branch here in San Antonio as a part-time field technician specializing in bat removal. We think you'd excel in exclusion services, given your prior experience with flying pests like bats as demonstrated during your game against Sacramento in 2009.

We'd certainly train you in on alternative methods of bat removal and provide protective gear to ensure safety is prioritized, but the calmness and timing you displayed in that moment aligns well with the skills we need to serve our customers all over San Antonio.

Once again, congratulations.
